

News Release

Contact
ERMC Public Affairs Office
DSN 371-3317/3049
Tel. 06221-17-3317/3049
ermc-pao@amedd.army.mil
Release No. 20121210-1

December 10, 2012

Charlie Company takes Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe Commander's Cup

CUTLINE:

Private Tamarcus Miller, left, and Staff Sgt. Joseph Walker, center, take the tip-off while Sgt. Shane Fuller (right) watches at the start of their wheelchair basketball game at the Patton barracks Gym in Heidelberg Dec. 7. The game was part of the final series of adaptive sports events sponsored by the Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe that started in October and ended with the battalion's Charlie Company from Schweinfurt taking the Commander's Cup trophy for the second straight time. All three companies participated in both wheelchair basketball and sitting volleyball during the finals, and also competed in marathon relay, cycling and archery in previous meetings. And Fuller are part of Charlie Company, while Walker is assigned to Alpha Company in Kaiserslautern. (Photo by Ed Drohan)

CUTLINE:

Spec. Michael Crimmins, a member of Alpha Company, Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe assigned to Wiesbaden (left, heads for ball carrier Sgt. Jonathan Clive, a member of Delta Company in Vilseck, as fellow Delta Company members Sgt. Alberto Armasmondragon and Staff Sgt. Travis Marks head up court to assist during their wheelchair basketball game at the Patton barracks Gym in Heidelberg Dec. 7. The game was part of the final series of adaptive sports events sponsored by the Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe that started in October and ended with the battalion's Charlie Company from Schweinfurt taking the Commander's Cup trophy for the second straight time. All three companies participated in both wheelchair basketball and sitting volleyball during the finals, and also competed in marathon relay, cycling and archery in previous meetings. And Fuller are part of Charlie Company, while Walker is assigned to Alpha Company in Kaiserslautern. (Photo by Ed Drohan)

CUTLINE:

Sgt. Shane Fuller attempts to return the ball during a sitting volleyball matchup between Charlie and Delta Companies at the Patton barracks Gym in Heidelberg Dec. 7. The game was part of the final series of adaptive sports events sponsored by the Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe that started in October and ended with the Charlie Company from Schweinfurt taking the Commander's Cup trophy for the second straight time. Alpha, Charlie and Delta companies participated in both wheelchair basketball and sitting volleyball during the finals, and also competed in marathon relay, cycling and archery in previous meetings. (Photo by Ed Drohan)

CUTLINE:

Capt. Brenna Rice, Charlie Company commander, and 1st Sgt. Darrin McDaniel hold the Commander's Cup trophy that their teams clinched for the second straight time during the final Warrior Games events at Patton barracks Dec. 7. The trophy was presented by Warrior Transition Battalion-Europe commander Lt. Col. Douglas Galuszka, left, and Command Sgt. Maj. Eugene Chance, right. The battalions three companies competed in wheelchair basketball and sitting volleyball that day, part of the final series of adaptive sports events sponsored by the WTB-E that started in October and ended with the Charlie Company from Schweinfurt taking the Commander's Cup trophy for the second straight time. Alpha, Charlie and Delta companies participated in both wheelchair basketball and sitting volleyball during the finals, and also competed in marathon relay, cycling and archery in previous meetings. (Photo by Ed Drohan)